

SAGES

Scottish Alliance for Geoscience, Environment and Society

SAGES INDIVIDUAL AFFILIATE MEMBERSHIP

What is SAGES?

SAGES pools world-leading expertise in geoscience and environmental science from across Scotland's research base, creating a multi-disciplinary alliance at the forefront of earth and environmental research. SAGES is a funded geoscience network – for mutual benefit of members and the ultimate beneficiaries of research.

Full SAGES members

Individual full SAGES members are drawn exclusively from employees and post graduate students of SAGES partner institutions. Institutional membership is on an annual subscription basis, with match funding provided by the Scottish Funding Council (SFC). Full details of member benefits can be found here.

Affiliate SAGES members

SAGES warmly welcomes individuals who are not employed or studying at a SAGES partner institution to apply to SAGES for Affiliate membership for an annual subscription fee of £100.

Benefits of Affiliate membership:

- Participation in SAGES workshops and events
- Receive SAGES monthly bulletin
- Access SAGES expertise database, and become registered on that database

Affiliate members are not eligible to apply individually to SAGES funding schemes, but can benefit from SAGES funding awarded to a full member.

To apply, please complete the online application.

The SAGES Director and SAGES Research and Innovation Committee will review your application.

Affiliate SAGES membership terms and conditions

Annual membership will commence from subscription payment date and expire on the one-year anniversary of this date.

A re-subscription invoice will be issued 30 days prior to your subscription expiry date, if no payment is made your subscription and all related benefits will cease on the expiry date.
